CAST ANCHOR at Ajaccio

TINO ROSSI

The Sailing Port of Ajaccio's Citadel was named Port Tino Rossi, in tribute to the famous XXth Century Corsican singer Constantino Rossi (aka Tino, 1907-1983), who got famous beyond the Mediterranean following numerous hits, such as « Petit Papa Noël » (1949 Gold Record), which is still the bestselling album today in France. Tino Rossi sold more than 500 million albums over his 50 year career. He rests in the maritime cemetery of his hometown Ajaccio.

Rocked by the Mediterranean sea, the Marina and Fishing Port of Ajaccio Tino Rossi welcomes you to the heart of the Imperial City for the most beautiful call ever.

The Port Director and his collaborators pledge to provide you with high quality services. Upon your arrival, please do not hesitate to pay a visit to the captainship in order to get tourist, weather and other useful information necessary for your call. There you will find a dedicated staff, available to make your stay a pleasant one.

THE BRANCALEONI WHARF OF HONOUR

The Marina and Fishing Port of Ajaccio Tino Rossi has been equipped with a captainship dedicated to Great Pleasure Boats, as well as an entirely renovated electric network, in order to welcome the world's most gorgeous yachts(+120 meters). As for the the four floats perpendicular to the pier and the main captainship, they are reserved for welcoming sailing boats up to 19 m long.

AJACCIO The Imperial City

Located at the heart of Ajaccio, in the picturesque district of the city of coloured houses, very lively day and night, with its narrow alleys, cafés, restaurants and shops, the Tino Rossi Port enables you to go and discover the Imperial City.

Le Musée du Salon Napoléonien

In memory of the imperial family, the Napoleonic museum located at the heart of the City Hall of Ajaccio, houses the Napoleonic lounge and the medal room. Open daily ; closed on Saturdays, Sundays, public holidays and during exceptional events and ceremonies.

Palais Fesch - Musée des Beaux-Arts

The Palace was built by Cardinal Fesch, Napoleon 1st's uncle, and one of the greatest art collector of his time. At the time of his death in 1839, he owned over 19,000 paintings, most of them Italian ones. Today, the museum offers a large collection of Italian paintings : the Italian Primitives, Roman Baroque painting, Napoleonic Baroque painting ; landscapes, popular scenes and still life from the Flemish school, a Napoleonic collection and a collection of Corsican paintings. Opened daily. Closed on Tuesdays and public holidays.

Statue de Napoléon et ses frères

On Place Charles de Gaulle (aka Place du Diamant), which separates the old town from Ajaccio's new districts, there is a monument dedicated to Napoleon and his four brothers ; it was erected according to Violet Le Duc's blueprints in 1865. It was nicknamed « the inkwell », due to its shape.

At 400 meters from the Port

U Casone

In that green open air theatre which houses all kinds of concerts and shows, you will be able to admire the exact replica of Napoleon 1st 's statue, which used to stay at the top of the Colonne Vendôme in Paris : the Emperor wearing a cocked hat takes pride of place at the top of a pyramidal staircase, which displays the names of his victories and achievements. The gardens shelter huge rocks where Napoleon used to play in his childhood ; those rocks are called « Grotte Napoleon » by the people of Ajaccio.

Ajaccio's Nightlife

"Aiacciu ! Aiacciu ! Boys and girls coming down to the sound of guitars ! Aiacciu ! Aiacciu ! And each of them singing their own song..." Tino Rossi used to sing. Ajaccio has preserved its festive spirit all year long. In summertime, there is something for every taste : Corsican songs, rock and techno music, French and international pop music... on the port and old town's terraces as well as in one of the numerous straw huts open in summertime on the Route des Sanguinaires or the Porticcio district.

The Beaches

There are many beaches in Ajaccio. Saint François Beach, which is the nearest to the Tino Rossi Port (see picture), is within a 3 min walking distance from there. Just keep walking along Boulevard Lantivy until you get to Plage du Trottet (Trottet Beach) and its straw huts. The numerous little beaches along Route des Sanguinaires and Capu di Fenò are very popular among the people of Ajaccio.

300 meters from the Port

Shopping

Cours Napoleon, which is the central avenue of Ajaccio, and Rue Fesch, a pedestrian area (see picture), are the main shopping streets for strolling, shopping and stopping for a drink at a terrace in order to watch life in Ajaccio. The Ajaccio Tourist Information Office and the Ajaccio Chamber of Commerce and Industry organize many summer entertainment activities every Friday around the « Shopping de Nuit » (Night Shopping).

50 meters from the Port

From the port Tino Rossi, you can enjoy an ideal location for making the most of Ajaccio and its surroundings.

Hiking

Corsica is a paradise for all hikers, old and young. In Ajaccio, the Hiking road of Sentier des Crêtes goes along the coast from the City Centre to the Parata and offers a breathtaking view over Ajaccio and the Sanguinaires Islands. Round trip in about 3 to 4 hours, departing from Bois des Anglais in Ajaccio (Bus Stop Number 7)
